Hot Water Extraction Of Oil From Sand Wasteful, Says Firm

It was disclosed in the Alberta Legislature recently that Great Canadian Oil Sands Limited of New York still wants to go ahead with a 100-million dollar project to separate oil from the Athabasca tar sands on a commercial basis.

A return tabled by Premier Manning states that Great Canadian made a request to the Oil and Gas Conservation Board on January 29 for a "reconsideration" of its application. The application was first heard by the board two years ago and was deferred until June 30 of this year for reconsideration, "provided the applicant is able to offer substantial new evidence" of the technical, economic and financial feasibility of the proposal.

Great Canadian said it was going to use the hot-water separation method originally developed by Dr. K. A. Clark of the Research Council of Alberta. This is based upon the simple fact that a gross separation of oil and sand takes place rather readily when oil sands are agitated in hot water.

Great Canadian proposed to develop its lease and one held by Sun Oil Company which together with Canadian Oil Companies would purchase the daily production of 31,500 barrels. The oil would be brought to Edmonton via a 16 inch, 300-mile pipeline.

Great Canadian told the Conservation Board the project would be financed with 45-million dollars debentures with stock options, an equal amount in mortgage bonds and 20-million dollars equity stock. This would include two-million shares at a price of $10 a share. The funds would be obtained from the Canadian capital market as far as possible.

The Great Canadian application was opposed by several companies which are engaged in experimental work at the sands. One of the companies described the hot-water method as wasteful.

Mr. Manning supplied information stating there are threee bituminous sands prospecting permits and 77 leases, all of which are in good standing. The prospecting permits are held by Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas, which is drilling five test holes this winter, and by Atlantic Refining Company which is drilling one hole in a program to determine the nature and extent of the sands deposits.

Individual experiments on the separation of the oil are presently being conducted by Shell Oil, Cities Service and Pan American Petroleum Corporation. Great Canadian has not conducted experiments at the sands.

The Conservation Board is expected to call a hearing to reconsider the application by Great Canadian, providing there is sufficient material to be heard.

Mackriss Wins Two Games, Loses Third At Jasper Place

LAC LA BICHE — The winning rink at the recent fireman's bonspiel, made up of Ted Mackriss skip, Ben Rizzoli, Alcide Richard and Ivan Ewanchuk, motored to Jasper Place, April 6 to participate in a fireman's bonspiel there.

They curled three games against St. Paul, winning two straight but losing out in the third. Thus they missed out in the semi-finals by one game.

St. Paul had four teams entered in the Bonspiel. An Edmonton team won the grand challenge event.

The boys enjoyed curling on artificial ice for the first time. They reported that the ice was fine as long as the machines kept running, but they broke down during the bonspiel and they were curling for a time on very soft ice.

Michael Hamar Chosen Director To Attend Meeting Held At Calgary

LAC LA BICHE — Nineteen members were present for the supper meeting of the chamber of commerce held in the York Hotel April 3. Michael Hamar chaired the meeting.

A letter was read stating that a meeting of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce to be held in Calgary May 28 and 29. William Hamilton, who has served as director for the past two years, declined to take the office for the following year, and the chairman called for nominations. Michael Hamar was the unanimous choice of the meeting.

A letter was also read indicating that a chamber of commerce seminar would be held in Grande Prairie April 11 and urging all boards of trade and chambers of commerce to send delegates. There were no volunteers.

A matter discussed at previous meetings was again introduced through correspondence read at the meeting, relating to a satellite TV tower to improve reception for the area in and around Lac la Biche. The secretary was instructed to write Jack Bigg, federal M.P., urging action on the matter.

One of the mercnants introduced the subject of the Thursday closing regulations now in effect in the town, urging that the chamber spearhead a movement to abolish all-day closing of businesses on Thursday in favor of Monday. An enthusiastic discussion on the faults of Thursday closing followed, with most of the opinions expressed against Thursday closing.

A motion was passed declaring the chamber of commerce in favor of closing all day Monday rather than Thursday, for a trial period of six months. The chamber is to approach the town council, asking that the town regulations be amended to permit the trial period. The meeting favored having the new plan go into effect May 7.

Fred Strashok reported for the committee in charge of the farmers' bonspiel held since the last meeting. The 'spiel was successful and all expenses had been met.

A motion was passed authorizing the executive to advertise the town in a certain Ukrainian newspaper with a wide circulation.

The subject of licensing by-laws, as they relate to transient traders and auctioneers, was discussed. Several members expressed the view that the town's by-laws should be made to prohibit indiscriminate transient traders from operating in the town. The meeting was informed that the town council was already working on the matter.

Massey-Ferguson Has New Tillage and Planting Equipment

Massey-Ferguson has announced major new additions to its implement line in 1962.

Widely diversified new lines of planting, tillage and cultivating equipment brings to 87 the number of implement models—mounted and pull-type—now offered by M-F in Canada.

New or improved for 1962 are the following implement lines:

MF 74 moldboard plows in 3-,4- or 5-bottoms, and 10-, 12-, 14- or 16-inch widths. This rugged, truss-frame design plow is built for high trash clearance. A special feature of this mounted-type unit is its crank furrow width adjuster, allowing the operator to adjust the width of cut of the front furrow quickly and easily—on the go from the tractor seat.

MF 39 tandem disc harrow offers 8-, 9- and 10-foot sizes for use with Category I and II three-point hitch tractors. It includes a pull-type implement hitch as standard equipment. Its sturdy, heavy-duty frame has built-in flexibility which allows each 20-inch diameter disc blade to carefully follow the ground contour. Quick and easy gang angle adjustments can be made without loosening bolts or removing pins.

MF 36 wide level disc harrow, available in 1962 for the first time in an 18-foot cutting width. Its basic design is that of the smaller models in this line produced by MF and which, the company reports, have established an outstanding reputation for trouble-free performance.

MF 33 grain drill, available in both plain grain and fertilizer models. One of its most important features is its sealed, greased-for-life bearings and a drop away bottom design for easy cleaning of the fertilizer box. In addition, it has large capacity and accurate metering of both grain and fertilizer. This unit has been built specifically for modern, high-speed tractor operation.

MF 31 mower and hay-conditioner in which the major development in 1962 is the hay-conditioner drive attachment. Special fetaures of this drive include ability to support weight of conditioner and not transmitting it to the mower frame; tubular steel frame for strength and rigidity without excess weight; full castering wheel; drive line protection; does not interfere with mower operation, even when making short right turns.

REPORT FROM OTTAWA

By Anthony J. Wright

That good old brand name approach: A couple of things happened in our capital this week to make me more suspicious than ever of some of Canada's business practices—or I should say North America's.

Firstly we have an announcement by the Tariff Board of Canada, dated 23 March 1962, about an appeal to National Revenue by the Singer Manufacturing Company. The appeal was all about vacuum cleaners. I am not concerned here with the appeal itself but with the description of some of the selling methods involved — methods which affect us as consumers. They also tarnish that old "brand name" approach, we hear so much of from advertisers.

I quote from the Tariff Board report: "In 1958, Singer (of St. Johns, Quebec) began to import canister vacuum cleaners for sale at retail in Canada. . . . all were manufactured by the Eureka Williams Corporation of Bloomington Illinois . . . Acting as agent for Singer, under an agreeemnt, Eureka affixed the Singer trade-mark to the vacuum cleaners made for sale to Singer. By the terms of the agreement, Eureka was restrained from selling vacuum cleaners that bore Singer's trademark to any buyer except Singer. The cleaners were shipped directly from Eureka in Bloomington to Singer's warehouse at St. Johns, Quebec, in lots of approximately one thousand."

Here comes the part that intrigues me:

"In addition to the Singer cleaners, Eureka made other canister type vacuum cleaners, some to be distributed under its own trade name, some for sale to other purchasers to be distributed under their trade name. These other makes were to differ slightly from the Singer machines and from one another, not only as to trade-mark but also as to coloring and superficial styling."

In other words consumers who buy canister vacuum cleaners bearing the Singer or certain other trademarks will in fact all be buying the same thing . . . a Eureka from good old Bloomington Ill. It's nice to know what you are buying when you get a brand name product I always say You can be sure if it's Eureka, in other words.

Secondly, comes an example closer to home of fast footwork at service stations.

A colleague of mine, needing a muffler for his car, bought one at a well-known 'discount' house which is familiar to most Canadians, having branches in cities and towns across the land and dealing in car parts and accessories. (This is not a discount house in the worst sense of the word, but a smoothly-run firm where prices are pared and buyers thereby attracted).

My friend took it home intending to fit it himself. Under the car that evening he discovered bolts rusted on to the part he wished to remove. He took himself and car off to a local service station with which he had done business before. The lessee threw up his hands in mock indignation and refused to fit the muffler on the grounds that my friend had bought it at the "discount" house, thereby depriving him of a profit. (And they call these places "service" stations!)

So my friend had the muffler fitted at another garage where they have no objection to supplying their skill and toil in exchange for a fair sum of money. (What's that but service?).

A few weeks later he happened to visit the "service department" of the discount house to have a battery installed or something like that. The mechanic seemed to have a familiar face. "Haven't I seen you before somewhere"? my colleague asked him, "where were you working bethis?" The mechanic mentioned a service station in Ottawa. Sure enough it was the place which had refused to fit the muffler in the first place because the lessee resented the fact that it came from the "discount" house. Said my friend, "I gather your old boss did not approve of my buying mufflers here!" "Don't see why he should kick," replied the mechanic "he gets all his parts here himself all the time!" In other words the disgruntled lessee was getting a 5 or 10 percent extra discount at the "discount" house (as a service station lessee). Then he charged customers the full price for parts though they had come from the stock rooms of one of the Big Three. I wonder how many 'friendly' garages behave likewise?

Spring With Jesus

BY JACQUELINE LEE DIESEL
(Age 12 Years)

Why should we worry
And why should we fear?
When the dear Lord Jesus
And Spring is here!
Of course here on earth
There are trials and troubles;
Just take them to Jesus
And they burst like bubbles!
Can you find anything better
Than His voise so true?
In Spring His wave-notes
Are radiating around you.
Take everything to Jesus
Trials, troubles and fears;
He'll take away your burdens
And wipe away your tears.
So come little children
Rejoice in His Spring;
When even old black crow
Is trying to sing!

Crown To Appeal Assault Sentence

The ottorney-general's department intends to appeal for a longer jail term for Frank (Tex) Schultz.

Schultz was convicted in Calary court earlier this month of assault and was sentenced to five years.

Evidtnce revealed Schultzg broke a man's leg, then twisted it around a telephone pole. The man's leg, then twisted it around a telephone pole. The man's leg had to be amputated.

Announcement of the attorney general's intention of appealing the sentence was made in the Legislature Wednesday by Premier E. C. Manneng after Calgary Conservative MLA Ernest Watkins asked what the department intended to do about this "unutterably savage" assault.

An appeal for reduction of the sentence has already been filed by Schultz.

Schultz is a former Saskatoon bootlegeer with a lengtry record of convictions. He was sentenced to Prince Alberta Penitentiary by Mr. Justice Hugh C. Farthing.

In passing sentence, Mr. Justice Farthing noted he was being lenient in view of the circumstances because he did not believe Schultz had intended to deny the victim use of his leg.

RALPH H. WILSON SPONSORS:

Northern Alberta Pioneer Chain Saw Dealers Meet In Edmonton

New products and sales demonstrations were included in a one-day meet of Pioneer Chain Saw dealers in Edmonton. Forty representatives attended the sales and service conference sponsored by Ralph H. Wilson and Co. Ltd., distributors for the saws and Lawn Boy power mowers.

Factory representative Mel Kirkham of Pioneer Saws Ltd., described the different aspects of service for dealers, and the current line of products was reviewed: Pioneer Model NU 17 for farmers, sportsmen and cottage owners, and Pioneer model Super 620, for the pulpwood industry.

Ralph Wilson and his sales representatives Ernie Smith and Stan Bembridge addressed dealers on sales and service. There was an evening meeting for those dealers handling Lawn Boy power mowers. Factory representative George Sedgewick discussed new 1962 models.

A meeting held earlier at Grande Prairie was attended by many dealers, including Howard Carson of High Prairie, Steve Anderson of Grouard, Sid Giroux of Spirit River, W. McDonald and Aurey Carter of Valleyview.

Dealers attending the Edmonton meeting included Jack Woywitka and Elmer Alf, Edson; Lloyd Olson, Edmonton; Ivan Brown, Entwistle; Dave Headon and George Boake, Wildwood; Delmer Schafer, Duffield; Norm Holt and Fred Williams, Bashaw; Nick Fidorchuk, Wandering River; William Hilliard, Lac la Biche; John Nordlund, Onoway; George Michael, Stony Plain; Virgil Stevens, Rimbey; Steve Barton, Barrhead; Nettrour and Son, Cooking Lake; Bill Ridd, Edmonton; Boris Walaschuk, Gainford; Dale Klotz and Bill Smith, Lloydminster; Peter Chapelski, Elk Point; Herb Holmes, Edmonton; John Duke, Hinton; Rowland Ulanicki, Bonnyville; John Park, Edmonton; Tom Novakowsky, Smoky Lake; Ross Halseth, Donalda; Jim Blake, Vermilion; Eric Paquette, St. Paul; Lawrence Swanke, Vegreville; George Edwards, Athabasca; Carson McConnell, Derwent; J. MF 18 PTO Manure Spreader Is New

With its new model 18 manure spreader, Massey-Ferguson now offers a complete line of ground and P.T.O. driven manure spreaders. Each have the company's special "add on" feature for increasing capacity up to 140 bushels.

Standard equipment includes a new throw-out clutch, which permits the box to be cleaned out on the return trip to the barn (to prevent freezing).

Easy loading is ensured with the unit's box height of 37 inches and width of 50 inches. Tandem axles are available to facilitate hitching and add to stability.

Even spreading is provided by the special spiral beater, which also minimizes wrapping. With the removal of this beater and the addition of a forage box, the spreader can be used for handling forage crops.

Strength and rot-resisting features are added by the long-life "Penta" treated all-wooden box.

Flexibility of size is also a plus factor. The 110-bushel model can be built up into a 125 or 140-bushel model. The unit can be adapted for spreading lime, handling liquid or fine, dry manure or handling forage crops.

THE Homemaker

District Home Economist, Westlock
By Bertha M. McCutcheon

Do you find it hard to keep your oven clean? Even though an oven can be closed from view, the presence of a greasy coating or spilled food in the oven will often make itself known by smoke when the oven is heated. This smoke will give the room an unpleasant ordor and it will also dirty the walls very readily.

B. McCutcheon

There are various methods that may be used in oven cleaning — using ammonia, using oven cleaner pastes and using oven cleaner sprays.

When using ammonia, one method is to wash the oven with a dilute solution of household ammonia. Another method is to leave a dish of ammonia in a closed oven overnight so that the fumes will tend to loosen the hard brown coating. Rubbing with a fine grade of steel wool may be required to do a satisfactory job. Harsh abrasives should be avoided since porcelain finishes are readily affected by harsh treatment.

Commercial oven cleaners have become quite popular with house wives. These eliminate the need for using abrasives, however, much precaution should be used.

The most effective paste cleaners are neither too thin that the cleaner runs on vertical surfaces, nor too thick that the paste is difficult to spread. Very close attention should be paid to the directions on the label. These cleaners generally are very strongly alkaline and caustic, thereby, user should wear rubber gloves and be very careful not to get any on the skin. Clothing, linoleum and other floor coverings will also be readily harmed by these chemicals.

The newer spray on oven cleaners are usually more expensive than the paste type and generally not as effective. The same precautions as when using the paste should be taken when using the spray-on.

To make oven cleaning an easier task, clean oven more frequently. After broiling or roasting meat, wipe off spatters of fat with piece of soft paper then wipe with damp cloth. Fat or food that has burned on may be rubbed off with steel wool of a fine grade. If a bad "spill-over" has burned on oven bottom, a piece of old towelling of cheese cloth dampened with household ammonia should be placed over the bottom plate.

Remove spills as soon as possible. Aluminum foil may be used to catch "spill-over". If used, the foil should be placed on oven rack rather than directly on the bottom of the oven.

If you wish a recipe for a cheap but effective homemade oven cleaner send your request to this office.

DR. J. H. KEYS:

Comes From Long Line Of Medicos

Distinguished Boxing, Army Career Background Of New MD

Boyle's new doctor, James Harrison Keys, LRCP (Ireland), LRCS-LM (Ireland), also has a Diploma in Ophthalmology. His hospital training was carried out, and all his medical and surgical degrees were taken in the world-famous training hospitals and colleges of Dublin where he was born.

This is the man who has come to open his office in Boyle. He is the sixth in line in his family to hold high positions in the medical profession in Ireland and other parts of Great Britain. He served with distinction in both World Wars. In World War II he was controller of the Irish ARP amongst other duties and several times parachuted into remote areas to help carry out rescue work.

In spite of the many years of intensive study and training necessary to qualify in so many branches of his profession, this intensely virile man found time for the rigorous physical training which was to put him in the top flight of British amateur athletes. His crowning achievement in this field being the winning of the Irish, British and European Amateur Bantam - weight Boxing Championships.

Dr. and Mrs. Keys are very widely travelled, touring being their favorite form of vacation. All types of participant sports interest them, they are keen naturalists and wild-life conservationists. Dr. Keys is also a splendid horseman, a very fine shot on game birds, and a dedicated angler.

In welcoming Dr. and Mrs. Keys to Boyle the district is acquiring not only a medical practitioner with a record of achievement that is second to none, but also a charming family who will mix well with the friendly local people, and contribute much to the social life of the village.

Lac la Biche MLA Criticizes Changes In Maternity Care

That the decision to stop paying hospitalization in maternity cases was made by the Cabinet to prevent debate in the Legislature, was charged by Mike Maccagno, Liberal member.

Mr. Maccagno said he was disturbed that he had to read about the changes in a newspaper. "The house was sitting, we were all here, why wasn't the decision announced here?" he asked. "Why are we here?"

He said he objected to the Cabinet passing an order-in-council changing the regulations. "There's no chance to discuss it now or propose an amendment," he said.

The Cabinet Friday passed an order-in-council which stops hospital payments in maternity cases and cuts off the $40 payment to persons unable to attend a hospital for maternity care who remain at home. Patients now will have to pay the province's co-insurance rate of a maximum of $2 per day.

Mr. Maccagno said he couldn't agree with Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross's statement the government would save $750,000 as a result of the move.

Boyle Welcomes Beauty Parlor, Doctor

1,400 Hour Course Prepares Ruth Semeliuk For Her Duties

By SLIM LAYLEY

This Boyle is quite the village! Incorporated as a village about six years ago, it has since got itself hooked up to sewer and water services, built a new school, bank, post office and liquor store, to balance up the existing hotel, churches, stores, garages and agricultural instrument dealers, and has become a well equipped centre of trade and culture.

Last week I heard they had acquired a doctor and a beauty salon. Now a doctor is a necessity even in a district as healthy as Boyle, because accidents can happen and sometimes the ladies need a little help bringing their off-spring into the world, but from our recollection of the Boyle ladies, a beauty parlor was just one thing they do not need, so we set out to investigate.

We left the city early in the morning, completely forgetting about the elongated slough-cum-rock pile which some perverted humorist nicknamed Highway 46 until we turned off Highway 28 and plunged right into it, emerging from a cloud of dust and flying rocks to turn off into Boyle one hour, one smashed headlight and one shattered windshield later.

To our delight we saw "King James" MacNamara standing in the street—still a splendid figure of a man—hatless, with snow-white hair and beaming smile to greet the morning sunshine. James looks as healthy and fit as he must have done long ago near the turn of the century when he first moved into the district bringing little with him but the lion heart of the pioneer and the name of his Irish birthplace which he put down in the fertile farm lands of Alberta, settling here and raising enough children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren to found his own dynasty.

After paying our respects to King James we went in search of Mayor Joe Radmanovich. In answer to our queries Joe told us we had the wrong slant on the beauty salon business. He said it was the men who wanted the beauty treatment so they would be a credit to their beautiful womenfolk, but things just weren't working out that way—the men could never get into the place because it was always crowded with women, who went there for the treatment whether they needed it or not.

Dropping in at Ruth's Beauty Salon we found Miss Semeniuk working on a client. All that was visible from under the pile of shampoo foam etc. was shapely and pleasing to the eye. An unobtrusive glance at the clients waiting for the treatment gave us the impression that working on such a bevy of loveliness would be akin to gilding the lilies.

Ruth, who is herself a splendid advertisement for the treatment she is handing out to the other girls, took a few minutes between clients to tell us about herself. She completed the 1,400 hours course at the Ruby Sharon School of Hair Design and was awarded the Ruby Sharon Diploma. She also has her Government license, and, of course, her Government Certificate.

Ruth has qualified in hair styling, facial and scalp treatment, cosmotology, and manicure; in other words, she can give a girl the whole works from top-knot to toe-nails.

The town congratulates Ruth on her enterprise and sincerely hopes that she will find time to go to work on some of the underprivileged males, because their need is surely the greater.

4-H Club News

GRASSLAND — The regular 4-H Clothing club meeting was held at the Grassland school. Ruth Federkiewicz acted as chairman and Verna Jenkins recorded the minutes in the absence of the regular secretary.

The meeting opened at 7:00 p.m. with the singing of 'O Canada followed by the 4-H pledge. When answering the roll call, each girl gave an example of care of the clothing.

A demonstration of how to introduce two persons was given by Antonia and Nina Teschuk and Janet Semeniuk.

A discussion followed on the profits made at the baseketball tournament, and it was decided to buy a trophy for the boys' basketball team. The girls spent the rest of the time sewing.

The meeting adjourned with "God Save the Queen" at 9:00 p.m.

The next meeting will be held April 11 and Mrs. B. M. McCutcheon will be guest speaker.

Owl River

Several men from this community have been successful in cutting and selling posts over the past winter.

Mrs. D. Shaffer is paying an extended visit to relatives in and near Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skyrpan are proud owners of a new school bus. It is the first to have the attractive white and red-brown interior finish and has many useful improvements as compared to older models.

The road from Lac La Biche to this community appears to be in much better condition this spring than in former springs, thanks to the Department of Highways.

Mr. Morin of Plamondon is in this vicinity with his saw-mill. He will saw lumber to be used on various farms here from logs cut by Ralph Shaffer and Ludwig Diesel.

Kikino

Ronald Thompson underwent minor surgery last week in the Lac la Biche hosiptal.

James Littlechilds and Ronnie Whitford are patients in the Lac la Biche hospital.

The gravel crusher was moved out of here the other day as the contract was finished.

The bridge gang is still working on the bridge being built over the Amisk River here.

Alfred Cardinal is back home after being employed in British Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Calliou and family of Edmonton were down to visit his folks over the weekend.

Bonnie Coulter Winner Of Public Speaking Contest

MANNVILLE — Sponsored by Oddfellows and Rebekah Lodges on Wednesday, March 28, a public speaking contest was held, with the following competing:

Robert Kurpil using the topic "Red China;" Laraine Younge, "The Middle East;" Karen Peden, "Canada and the Lesser Developed Areas;" Kenneth Johnson, "The Middle East" and Bonnie Coulter, "The Middle East."

Judges were Mrs. K. Stewart and C. Heckbert of Vermilion and Mr. Chomik of Innisfree.

Mr. Chomik acted as spokesman for the trio of judges and urged contestants to rember the importance of gestures, to move freely and not stand in one position on stage—make use of the stage to advantage, he said, and also he advised the group to use expression when speaking.

It might be added that Bonnie Coulter seemed to be a popular choice with those present, who enjoyed her speech, as well as those of the others, but felt her presentation was a most vibrant and commendable one.

Sisters Celebrate 25th Anniversaries

LLOYDMINSTER — On March 28 Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Snowden of Lloydminster and Mr. and Mrs. Aner Scargall of North Battleford celebrated their 25th wedding anniversaries in their respective homes.

They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, and well wishes from their friends, families and relatives.

Lunch was served by each hostess and the evening was spent in games and reminiscing.

Mr. and Mrs. Snowden received phone calls from their son Bob and family of Calgary and their daughter Gwen and Jerry of Edmonton.

On the Friday evening the two couples celebrated together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Snowden, where friends and relatives gathered to partake of a turkey buffet lunch, which was followed by the cutting of the two cakes by the brides and grooms of 25 years.

Many pictures were taken and a wonderful evening was enjoyed. The Snowdens & Scargalls thanked their friends for the fine gifts and good wishes.

Superintendent Addresses ATA

On Monday evening, March 26, the regular meeting of the Holden ATA was held in the school with Mr. Pike, Superintendent of Schools, as guest speaker. Mr. Pike chose to speak on the different councils, sponsored by the ATA, which may be attended by the rank and file of teachers and from which aid in teaching the various subjects may be obtained.

Science, social study, language councils, etc., meet regularly and are doing a great deal of excellent work in promoting interesting information and materials in connection with the teaching of all subjects.

In the absence of the president, Mr. Hardy, the meeting was conducted by the vice-principal, Mr. L. Olsen.

R. Gory, assistant superintendent, was present also and spoke briefly to the gathering.

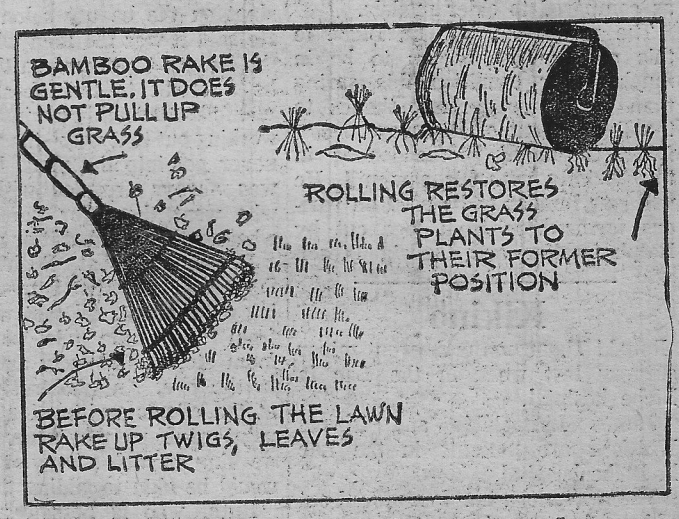
Garden Graph



BAMBOO RAKE IS GENTLE, IT DOES NOT PULL UP GRASS
ROLLING RESTORES THE GRASS PLANTS TO THEIR FORMER POSITION
BEFORE ROLLING THE LAWN RAKE UP TWIGS, LEAVES AND LITTER

Heavy Rollers Taboo on Lawn

It is a mistake to roll the lawn while there is still a chance of frost heaving it up, or when it is still soggy.

Rolling when a lawn is too wet packs the earth so hard that it injures the turf. Grass roots must have air as well as food and moisture. Hard-packed earth will bake when dry, hot weather sets in, making it difficult for grass to survive.

Do not roll the lawn until you have first raked away all twigs, dead grass and leaves. If dead leaves are rolled into the lawn they will be hard to remove and will smother the grass.

As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, the broom-type bamboo rake is good at this time because it uproots fewer plants. Rubber toothed rakes rake clean also without tearing.

When conditions are right, one rolling of the lawn should be sufficient, as shown, to firm frost-heaved grass roots back into the soil.

A heavy roller can do more harm than good by puddling and compacting the soil. A water-weighted roller without the water has sufficient weight so conserve your energy. Always roll the lawn in alternating directions.

Top dressing is generally resorted to for smoothing out small inequalities in the turf, by filling in the holes and cracks, instead of trying to roll down the humps.

Teen-Age Vilna Pianist Takes Honors At Lamont

JEAN MARY ANN VETSCH, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Vetsch of 9818 - 69 Avenue, Edmonton. A graduate from St. Mary's High School, she entered Misericordia Hospital School of Nursing in September, 1961, and was honored at a recent Candle Lighting and Official Capping Ceremony.

A teen-age concert pianist from Vilna took top honors at the A.C.T.-CFRN eastern regional semi-finals held at Lamont Saturday, April 7. Miss Necyk won over nine other aspirants representing their respective communities in the regional semi-finals after winning first place locally earlier in the season.

The show was held at Lamont under the auspices of the Lamont Lions Club with Alex Cholak acting as co-ordinator between the Lions and the Associated Canadian Travellers. Proceeds from the show went to the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund.

Carmelle Lafrance, vocalist from St. Paul, won second place and Sharilyn Meyers of Bremner was judged third best. Miss Necyk was original winner of the Smoky Lake Show last October. Miss Lafrance won at St. Paul and Miss Meyers took local honors at the Bruderheim show.

All three will now compete for the Sunwapta Scholarship at the finals scheduled for Redwater on Saturday, April 14. This show will be under sponsorship of the Lions Club at Redwater and will be held at the school auditorium.

Unsuccessful contestants were Judy Lynkowski of Myrnam; Judy Karbashewski, Willingdon; A. Kozakevich, Lac la Biche; Shirley Bennett, Tofield; Jennifer Kilborn, Mannville; Bernard Beaupre, Bonnyville and Kathy Martin, Radway.

The panel of three adjudicators consisted of Ron Stephens and Deanna Hamaluk of Edmonton and Leo Korchinsky of Andrew.

In the showmanship division the Tri-Lites of Camrose were first, followed by the Triple Trio of Grand Centre. Consolation prizes went to the Golden Tones of Andrew and the Spartans of Redwater. Top two winners in this division will also appear at the finals at Redwater on Saturday.

The five entries from the eastern division will compete against five from the west in their respective divisions. In the Sunwpata Scholarship event the western contestants will be Eileen Dedio of Thorsby, Sharon Warden of Stony Plain and Roland Johnston of Whitecourt, who won the top three places in the above order at Morinville one week earlier.

Also competing, representing the western division in the showmanship class will be Beverly Ament and her Family Orchestra of Blue Ridge and Shirley Shelton of Westlock.

Supplementing the performances of the ten finalists will be Spotlight Parade '62 under the direction of Jack Benbow.

Frank Sissons, chairman of Crews for the Associated Canadian Travellers 1961-62 project, was A.C.T. team captain at the Lamont show.

4-H Club News

BLUE JAY — A regular 4-H Clothing Club meeting was held on March 18, in the Grassland School. Ruth Federkiewicz acted as chairman and Verna Jenkins took down the minutes because the secretary was unable to attend this meeting which started at 7:00 p.m. It opened by singing O Canada, followed by the 4-H pledge.

For roll call all the members gave an example for taking care of one's clothing. A demonstration by Antonia and Nina Teschuk and Janet Semeniuk on "Introducing Two Friends" was given.

After the demonstration there was a discussion on how much money the club collected at the basketball tournament. The girls also decided to buy the Grassland boys' basketball team a trophy. Then the girls spent the rest of the evening sewing. The meeting was adjourned at 9:00 p.m., closed by singing " God Save the Queen."

The next meeting was on April 11. The guest speaker was Mrs. McCutcheon. Anyone interested in sewing and who is 12 years old or over, please attend the meetings.

Hard work makes almost any job easy; backing off, and delaying the start, makes success almost impossible.

Bill Permits Vote On Urban County System

Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke announced the government proposes to alow cities and towns in Alberta to hold plebisicites before implementing the county system of government.

In addition, once voters decide by a simple majority to have a county form of government, councillors and school trustees would continue to be elected as in the past, but they would set as one body for one year. The school trustees would form the education committee of the county council and would take part in regular council meetings in the same manner as councillors.

Plebisicities will be possible at the instigation of either the city council, the school board or a percentage of the ratepayers, possibly five per cent. The initial plebisicite and one four years later to determine if the county system should be continued will be mandatory.

Bill Hits Out at Sledding, Stray Animals, Litterbugs

The section of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act dealing with stray animals has been strengthened. The new section reads: No domestic animal shall be on a highway unless it is in direct and continuous charge of a person who is competent to control it and who is controlling it in such a manner that it does not obstruct or cause any damage to the highway or create any hazard to traffic on the highway. Mr. Taylor said that up to now it has been difficult to get a conviction because the crown had to prove the owner knowingly permitted the livestock to stray onto the road under certain conditions.

An employee of the highways department or a peace officer may take the animal into custody and the owner would be subject to a fine of up to $50 upon conviction.

The new legislation does not alter the situation with respect to civil liability of the owner for damages.

A new section prohibits the towing by a motor vehicle on a highway of any person riding a sled, toboggan, skis or bicycle. Mr. Taylor said this has been found to be a common practice on some secondary highways and even some main highways.

The fine for leaving litter on the highway is increased from $50 to $60. This applies not only to a person who throws garbage on the road but also to the person who fails to remove glass or other injurious substances following an accident.

A number of offences are added to the list of endorsable offences. After Mr. Taylor's bill is passed by the legislature, magistrates will endorse operator's licenses for failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian, and in the case of school bus drivers, for speeding or crossing railway tracks without stopping.

School bus drivers are also prohibited from making U-turns on any highway which is not a four-lane divided highway.

The amendments also give the government authority to control the quality of brake fluid.

John Persinger Heads Credit Union

Ask Commission Study Bay Route

LLOYDMINSTER — At the annual meeting of the Hudson's Bay Route Association held here last week Hon. I. C. Nollet, Saskatchewan minister of agriculture, asked an impartial commission to study the potential of the Hudson Bay route.

Mr. Nollet was the guest speaker at a dinner given by the Saskatchewan government during the two-day convention of the association.

Mr. Nollet said "there has been no competent agency appointed to investigate fully the true potential of the Hudson Bay route" for trans-Atlantic navigation. He said this should be done without further delay.

LARGE GATHERING

At one of the largest gatherings of the association, representatives came from as far north in Alberta as Fairview, represented by Walter Hemstock, and as far east as Winnipeg.

The 19th annual meeting was presided over by J. S. Woodward, former editor of the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix and association president.

William Riddel, a representative of the Canadian Wheat Board, complimented the association executive and stated that exports from the Port of Churchill had risen from 2,000,000 bushels of grain per year to 20,000,000 last year.

Smith

Mrs. Hazel McCumsey has returned to Smith after spending the winter in Munson with her daughter. She also visited relatives in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O'Neil are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCumsey have gone to Hay River to visit relatives.

The marriage of Miss Kathleen Hugo and Mr. George McClaynahan of New Brunswick is taking place on April 14 at Stadacona, Halifax, in the Navy Chapel with the bride and groom and all attendants wearing navy uniforms. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hugo of Smith.

Miss Kathleen Hugo was a patient in the hospital at Stadacona, Halifax, where she underwent surgery.

Mannville District Organizes Group With Some Forty Members

MANNVILLE — At a recent meeting to organize a Board of Credit Union members, the following were elected: President, John H. Persinger; vice-president, Walter Donnenworth.

Directors: Kenneth F. Scoggins, C. R. Stevenson, G. A. Westover, Paul Puzztai and E. C. Morton; Credit Committee, Alf Gerhart, William Stefanyk and J. H. Persinger: Supervisory Committee, S. J. Kristjanson, Dan H. Nafziger, Ed Maier; secretary-treasurer, G. Twe Horton; Assistant Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Adele Horton.

To become a member of the Credit Union it is required to purchase one share for the sum of $5 and pay an entrance fee of 25 cents.

This union is directed so that people may borrow money to finance consumption needs at a much lower rate of interest than from Finance Companies. Rate of interest is said now to be 6.5%. The money lent to members in good standing and at present not to exceed $300, is derived from the sale of shares to members, deposits of shareholding members and from pooling of savings. Naturally the set amount of loans is made flexible by the added support of a large membership. The more people joining will mean the more capital the Credit Union has with which to finance loans. In Alberta Credit Unions are gathering strength as never before with assets set at $35,000,000. To date this newly formed union has 40 members with an expected 100 within a short time.

In 1961, there were recorded 33 New Credit Unions with a gain of 6,000 members, and $5.4 million gain in assets. In USA there were recorded, in 1961, 6,700 Credit Unions, membership of 1,500,000, and loans of $65,000,000 outstanding. Maximum interest rate was 1% per month and solvency rate was good. Interested persons are invited to contact any of the above, become a member and watch the group set a record.

Every dollar in savings is insured. If a loan is taken out, and sudden death occurs, the family is not responsible for the loan due to insurance.

Twe Horton Named Head Fish, Game Association

MANNVILLE — Twe Horton was elected president of the Mannville and District Fish and Game Association at the annual meeting held in the Legion Hall on Friday, March 23 at 8:30 p.m. Others elected to office were L. S. Colter, secretary-treasurer; and executive members Oscar Younge, Bruce Scott, Pete Golenowski, Stan Konierzny, Pete Grabas, Chester Gamble, Alex Henderson and Emery Matney.

The president Oscar Younge presided at the business meeting. It was agreed to continue the bounty on crows and magpies for the ensuing year.

Pete Grabas was the winner of the door prize.

Prior to the meeting, four interesting films were shown. The first: "Survival in the Bush" an RCAF film, gave many interesting and useful ideas to anyone who might have to fend for himself until rescued. The second entitled "North of the Arctic Circle," showed many colorful scenes of Norway and of reindeer. The third: "Fighting Gar Fish" was the fisherman's film and showed the struggle to land one of these fish. The last film "Birds of the Prairie Marshes" was very informative. It showed ducks and geese nesting in the Canadian north. The executive regrets that so few children see these films. They are educational and interesting for all.

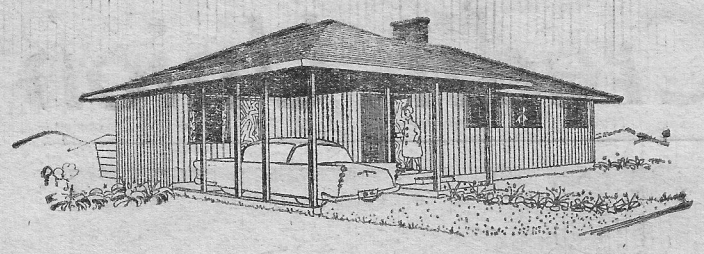
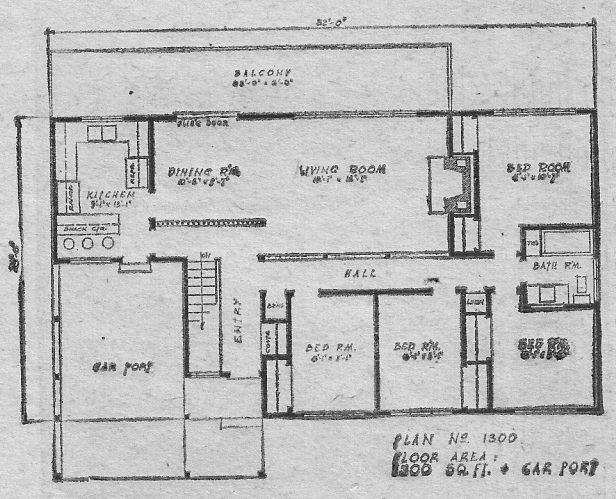
PLENTY OF ELBOW ROOM





If a well planned home with plenty of bedrooms for a growing family is your desire then this is the home for you, especially if you wish to attain this in not too large an area.

It's designed with living room, dining room kitchen and one bedroom across the back, and is particularly suitable for a lot sloping to the rear with a view so that the balcony can be used to fullest advantage.

Entry with open stairwell, three bedrooms and carpet are the front features of this family home. Your lot should slope fairly sharply to the rear so that you can have the benefit of a full depth of the house at the back and still maintain a sleek low look at the front.

The carport roof extends over the entry of the house so that there is protection from the weather when entering from the front, but there is also an entry to the kitchen from the carport. The U shape kitchen, planned for efficiency features an eating bar, while the effect of a hallway is created by a louvred wall at the end of the dining area.

The fireplace on the end wall of the living room leaves a spacious uncluttered area for furniture arrangement. Master bedroom features double clothes closet for Mr. and Mrs.

Vertical siding with cedar shakes would look very attractive on the outside of the house, and of course planters and shrubs at a later date will do a most effective job of glamorizing its appearance.

Working drawings are available for this home, designed for NHA approval, from the Building Centre (B.C). Ltd., 116 East Broadway, Vancouver 10. Plan No. 1300 (copyright No. 117093).

Hunting Along Alaska Panhandle Show Feature

The Edmonton Fish and Game Association wishes to announce that the feature attraction for its Annual Sportsman's Show at the Jubilee Auditorium April 18-21, will be a visit by Ralph Young of Peterborough, Alaska, who will show his spectacular wildlife film "Cheechako."

This hour-long film in technicolor with sound track, was taken by a professional cameraman who accompanied a "tenderfoot" on a six-week hunting and fishing trip in the Alaska Panhandle, guided by Ralph Young in person. It shows whales and seals on the coast, salmon spawning and bears catching fish in the streams, as well as big game and other wildlife.

This film has already been shown to appreciative audiences in New York, Los Angeles, and several other North American cities.

Young will bring several other shorter films with him, all with a Western Canada wildlife theme, and his showings wil be interspersed with stories of his adventures and experiences in the North Country.

Ralph Young was born in Pennsylvania, raised in Oregon, and has lived in Alaska for 28 years. He has been a trapper, seal hunter, commercial fisherman, Chief of Police, and Deputy U.S. Marshal. He became a full time guide and outfitter in 1946, and has guided most of the well-known big game hunters and outdoors writers on successful expeditions into the back country.

In recent years he has taken up writing himself, and has had his stories published in such continent-wide publications as Field and Stream, Outdoor Life, and True Hunting Annual.

This will be his first public appearance in Edmonton.

Abused Pigs, Fined $200

A. F. Henkelman, an Edmonton district farmer, was fined $200 and costs in RCMP court after he was convicted of failing to provide adequate shelter for approximately 10 pigs on his farm.

Special Constable A. W. Bruce of the SPCA said the charge was laid after several calls were received by the SPCA, concerning a man who was keeping pigs in a barn with no bedding or heat. Court was told several of the young pigs froze to death.
